

Next BCC concert: Allegri Miserere on 19 & 21 June

Join the Brussels Chamber Choir in June for two performances of highly contrasting Early Music masterpieces. The Miserere by Gregorio Allegri was written for the Sistine chapel in the 1630s in a style halfway between the Renaissance and the Baroque. With its epic high C, it is both easily recognised and dazzlingly beautiful. Written about 100 years later in Protestant Germany, J.S. Bach's inspiring motet Jesu meine Freude offers a striking contrast with its fast and lively music, and its joyous perspective on life and death.

BCC shines in "Luminiscence"

Since mid-December, the BCC has been lighting up the long Brussels nights in LUMINISCENCE, a spectacular sound and light show that celebrates the 800th anniversary of Brussels Cathedral. It is a truly immersive experience, in which the BCC performs favourites of the Classical repertoire timed perfectly to breathtaking video mapping effects projected onto the cathedral's walls and ceiling.

70,000 people have now heard us and seen the show - are you one of them? If not, you're in luck!

The show has been so successful that its run has been extended until 25 April. So book now, and experience the BCC and Brussels cathedral as you never have before.

Past Projects

Christmas with Benjamin Britten - 13 and 14 December 2025

Last December BCC joined forces with another Belgian choir to celebrate Christmas in style with the inspiring music of Benjamin Britten. The Female Vocal Ensemble Caloroso performed one of Britten's best known and most performed works, "A Ceremony of Carols", while the BCC performed "Rejoice in the lamb" by Britten and works by William Mathias.

For those wishing to recapture a sense of the festive season, here is a recording of the joyful Christmas Greetings, composed for the occasion by our resident composer, Jan Moeyaert.
