Charity concert on 12 October in the centre of Brussels

This Sunday 12 October the Brussels Chamber Choir will be performing in a special charity concert for the asbl Epée. This community centre in the Brussels district of the Marolles organises after-school activities and help with homework for local children and teenagers. During the first half of the concert, Philippe Raposo and Daphné Groenendaels will play new and traditional Portuguese music on Classical and Portuguese guitars.

The BCC will then perform some of its favourite a cappella works in a varied programme including early music by Tallis, Gombert and Monteverdi, contemporary works by Eric Whitacre, Sarah Hopkins and Elaine Hagenberg, and Samuel Barber's famous Agnus Dei.

Past projects

BCC sings music from Video Games at Flagey, Brussels

Last June, the BCC had the unique opportunity to perform alongside Brussels Philharmonic and maestro Frank Strobel for "Press Play: A Video Games Concert" at Studio 4 of Flagey. The programme featured an exceptional selection of music from European video games such as World of Warcraft, The Witcher, and Assassin's Creed. This project certainly pushed us out of our comfort zone, challenging us with new composition styles, but it was great fun to sing in such an epic concert!

BCC meets Whitacre – “Eternity in an hour” at Flagey, Brussels

Last May, the Brussels Chamber Choir joined seven other Belgian choirs on the stage of Flagey under the baton of American choral composer superstar, Eric Whitacre. We performed some of Whitacre’s most famous works, including the dramatically atmospheric Cloudburst, which depicts a raging storm with body percussion, and his shimmering Lux Aurumque.

The concert was a great success and it was, as ever, a huge privilege to make music with Eric.
